Shaw University junior guard Amir Hinton has been named the 2019 Division II Bulletin Player of the Year.

Hinton led the nation in scoring, posting 29.4 points per game during the 2018-19 season where he also captured the 2019 Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) Player of the Year award while making First-Team All-CIAA, All-Tournament Team and leading the Bears (17-13) to their third consecutive division title and runner-up finish in the conference championship. Additionally, Hinton led the nation in free throws made (321) and ranked second in DII for total points scored (853).

He has declared himself eligible for the NBA draft.

Hinton headlines the DIIB All-Americans, where he is joined on the first team by Joey Witthus of NW Missouri, Will Vorhees from Notre Dame, Point Loma junior Daulton Hommes and Jacobo Diaz of Indiana (Pa.).

Division II Bulletin has named a Player of the Year every year since the 1991-92 season.
